The increase in throughput was driven by the Haynesville Springridge gas gathering system acquired in December 2010 and strong well-connect performance in both the Barnett Shale and Mid-Continent regions. The Partnership connected 146 new wells to its gathering systems during the 2011 third quarter, an increase of 21% compared to the 2010 third quarter. ## Partnership Increases Cash Distribution

On October 28, 2011, the Board of Directors of the Partnership's general partner declared a quarterly cash distribution of $0.375 per unit for the 2011 third quarter, a $0.0125, or 3.4%, increase over the 2011 second quarter distribution. The annualized distribution represents an 11% increase compared to the annualized distribution in the 2010 third quarter. The distribution will be paid on November 14, 2011 to unitholders of record at the close of business on November 7, 2011. Adjusted DCF for the 2011 third quarter of $67.8 million provided distribution coverage of 1.28 times the amount required for the Partnership to fund the distribution to both the general and limited partners.

Partnership Updates 2011 Financial Outlook

The Partnership is increasing its outlook of ebitda for the 12 months ending December 31, 2011 to $340 million from $332 million due to both volume and operating expense performance. The Partnership's projections of growth capital expenditures and maintenance capital expenditures for 2011 remain unchanged at $366 million and $74 million, respectively.

Management Comments

J. Mike Stice, Chesapeake Midstream Partners' Chief Executive Officer, commented, "We have delivered another outstanding quarter across the board. We are seeing the benefits of organic growth from increased well-connects resulting in solid volume growth in all regions. Combining organic growth and continued positive performance from our Springridge acquisition with enhanced operating expense productivity, we are able to deliver impressive bottom line performance to unitholders. As a result, I'm pleased that these operational successes are giving us the opportunity to make a positive adjustment to our 2011 ebitda outlook."

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This press release and accompanying schedules include the non-GAAP financial measures of adjusted ebitda, DCF and adjusted DCF. The accompanying schedules provide reconciliations of these non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable financial measures calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered as an alternative to GAAP measures such as net income, net cash provided by operating activities or any other measure of liquidity or financial performance calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. Investors should not consider adjusted ebitda, DCF or adjusted DCF in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of the Partnership's results as reported under GAAP. Because these non-GAAP financial measures may be defined differently by other companies in our industry, the Partnership's definition of adjusted ebitda, DCF and adjusted DCF may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies, thereby diminishing their utility.

Adjusted Ebitda. The Partnership defines adjusted ebitda as net income (loss) before income tax expense, interest expense, depreciation and amortization expense and certain other items management believes affect the comparability of operating results. Adjusted ebitda is a non-GAAP financial measure that management and external users of our consolidated financial statements, such as industry analysts, investors, lenders and rating agencies, may use to assess:

• The Partnership's operating performance as compared to other publicly traded partnerships in the midstream energy industry, without regard to capital structure, historical cost basis or financing methods;

- The Partnership's ability to incur and service debt and fund capital expenditures;
- The ability of the Partnership's assets to generate sufficient cash flow to make distributions to unitholders; and
- The viability of acquisitions and other capital expenditure projects and the returns on investment of various investment opportunities.

Management believes it is appropriate to exclude certain items from ebitda because management believes these items affect the comparability of operating results. The Partnership believes that the presentation of adjusted ebitda in this press release provides information useful to investors in assessing its financial condition and results of operations. The GAAP measure most directly comparable to adjusted ebitda is net income.

Distributable Cash Flow. The Partnership defines DCF as adjusted ebitda attributable to the Partnership adjusted for:

- Addition of interest income;
- Subtraction of net cash paid for interest expense;
- Subtraction of maintenance capital expenditures; and
- Subtraction of income taxes.

Management compares the DCF the Partnership generates to the cash distributions it expects to pay its partners. Using this metric, management computes a distribution coverage ratio. DCF is an important non-GAAP financial measure for our limited partners since it serves as an indicator of our success in providing a cash return on investment. Specifically, this financial measure indicates to investors whether or not the Partnership is generating cash flows at a level that can sustain or support an increase in its quarterly cash distributions. DCF is also a quantitative standard used by the investment community with respect to publicly traded partnerships because the value of a partnership unit is in part measured by its yield, which is based on the amount of cash distributions a partnership can pay to a unitholder. The GAAP measure most directly comparable to DCF is net cash provided by operating activities.

Adjusted Distributable Cash Flow. The Partnership includes the quarterly impact of contractual minimum volume commitments that are not recognized until the fourth quarter of each year in its calculation of adjusted DCF for the purpose of calculating the distribution coverage ratio.
